[...]tongue on the subject of modern poets and poetry the inverted commas were in his voice. You young spring poets, said he, are too tender by half; you're all white meat together. You may say that's no reason why I should have my knife in you. Why didn't you say it? A bad joke would be a positive treat from you precious young fellows of to-day. And you give us bad lyrics instead, in limited editions; that's the way it takes you now. Claude laughed; he was absurdly good-humoured under hostile criticism, a quality of which some of his literary friends were apt to take advantage. On this occasion, however, his unconcern was partly due to inattention. While listening to his old friend he was thinking still of the Duke. I'm sorry you would be a poet, Claude, the magistrate continued. The price of poets has gone down since my day. And you'd have done so much better in the House-by which, of course, I mean the House we all thought you were bound for. Has he-has he turned up yet? [...]
