Guarded, by these difficulties, against the perils of inquiry and detection, the authors of these frauds have hardened in confidence, cool determination and impudence. After an election, the defeated partisans soon forget the inquiry into causes; and it is impossible to arouse them to the painful labor of searching for the mode and means of their own irretrievable loss. The fruitless contest once fully past, disappointment vents itself in vain curses; and wrath soon evaporates in threats as idle as the wind. The combination of force, kept up in hope of success, vanishes in defeat; and the recently associated agents of the defeated party meet again only as strangers, until a new movement inspires new hope, in another contest - while the victorious leaders of faction divide the spoils, with a security which can tolerate no feeling...
